Why Teach?

"Every day when I walk in I don't know what I'm going to get, but day is a magic moment."

-Eirllys

"I hope to be one of those teachers inspiring my students, as a role model and an educator, to be their best selves in all aspects of their lives."

- Alex

"There is something very special about the look in a child's face when they achieve something they didn't even know was possible."

- Gemma

Make a Difference

Teachers make a positive impact on the lives of their students. You can help shape future generations. It's also about supporting and connecting with students.

Variety

No two days are the same; you might work with different topics, different students, in different spaces. There are also carnivals, camps and excursions.

Lifelong Learner

Teaching offers lots of opportunities for ongoing development. You can continue to learn and grow your skills throughout your career, which is very rewarding.

Career

There is always demand for teachers - job security is comparatively high. Teachers also have a relatively high starting salary, and there are opportunities for career advancement.

Options

Work with any age group or specialise in a field that you love e.g. mathematics, history, music, languages. There are mainstream schools, alternative schools, schools with students that have special needs, and tertiary options.

Scholarships

There are a range of teaching scholarships, internships and immersions to make your pathway to employment easier. Check with universities as to what's on offer.

Free myfuture webinars for parents and carers

Where do young people go for career information?

Thursday 30 November, 1:00pm (AEDT)

Where do young people look for information about careers? Monash University researchers recently set out to find the answer to this question, analysing what sources of career information young people use and which ones they are most confident in. Their findings describe a broad range of sources that complement one another in a 'careers information ecology', as well as how much young people trust each source, noting the crucial role that parents and carers play in providing trusted career information.

Based on the new myfuture Insights paper 'Thinking in a joined-up way: the importance of the careers information ecology', this webinar, presented by the authors Professor Steven Roberts and Dr Ben Lyall, will summarise their research findings and explain how you can support your young person to access and make sense of the information they need.

Career conversations at results time: Support your young person's wellbeing and help them plan their next steps Tuesday 12 December 1:00pm (AEDT)

The end of the year can be an anxious time for senior secondary students as they await their exam results, and also an anxious time for parents! Some will celebrate, some will be disappointed, and many will just be uncertain about what it all means.

Join us as Dr Michael Healy shares practical tips on how parents and carers, teachers, friends, and others can support young people to understand their results and plan their next steps accordingly. Learn how to help your young person recognise and manage their emotions at results time (both positive and negative), discover post-school pathway options for them to consider, and how they can make good career decisions and approach the next chapter of their journey with confidence.

Job Opportunities

Apprentice Cabinetmaker in Somersby

An employer is seeking a dedicated Apprentice Cabinetmaker eager to learn the craft of cabinetmaking and design.

The role provides a unique opportunity to develop hands-on skills in a supportive environment, under the mentorship of industry professionals.

The ideal candidate will have a genuine passion for woodworking and an enthusiasm for learning the intricacies of manufacturing.

Regional Industry Education Partnerships (RIEP) has been engaged to support the employer with their recruitment process. The program includes a business overview, industry tour, and Q&A session.

Please Note:

- This is a full-time apprenticeship opportunity only suitable for school leavers.
- Places for this program are strictly limited – as there is only 1 apprenticeship on offer.
- To be considered for the apprenticeship position, students must be able to get to the Somersby workshop – either their own transport or supported by a parent etc.
- The industry tour will take place Thursday 23rd November.
- The employer has requested that parents accompany students on the day.
- The program is 1 hour, commencing at 7am. This time has been chosen as it's the start time for the successful apprentice.

If you are interested in this apprenticeship, please provide a brief outline as to why you would be suitable for this role. Your response will be provided to the RIEP Senior Project Officer who is supporting the employer with the recruitment process.

Tocal College Scholarship Program

Closes end of November

The College is extremely fortunate to have a very generous scholarship program. Our benefactors include community and farm industry organisations, employer groups, and alumni. Their greatly appreciated contributions allow up to 60% of our students to receive a scholarship to assist them with their regular College fees.

Scholarships vary in amount from $1,000 to $5,000 per student and are allocated by an Independent Scholarship Selection Panel. The main selection criterion is financial need, but other important considerations include likely contribution to community, dedication to studies and intended career path.

A single Scholarship Application Form is available which applies to all scholarships generally. A small number of scholarships have specific selection criteria requested by the benefactor which is usually associated with the applicant's chosen field of work. Unless otherwise stated, applications for the above scholarships close at the end of November. Successful applicants are notified in December/January. A covering letter providing information on the financial position of the applicant and their family (including taxable income) is recommended.

10 red flags to look out for during an interview

Attending an interview is a daunting prospect for most people. In preparation, job-seekers can access plenty of terrific online resources aimed at bolstering their interview performance, allaying nerves, and adapting to changing interview practices. Yet, in the quest to impress, it is easy to forget the interview is a two-way process. You can make your case as the preferred candidate, while at the same time assessing whether you want the job. It is personal.

While most interviews are conducted very professionally, this is not always the case

Carecareers In NSW

Are you looking for a career that helps you meet your goals while helping others to achieve theirs? If so, this is a great place to start. In NSW, more new jobs are being created in Disability, Community and Aged Care than in any other sector. It's an exciting time as the sector is expanding to transform the lives of those in the community.

<https://www.carecareers.com.au/carecareers-in-nsw/>

Aged & Community Care Jobs In NSW

Aged care is a huge industry and it is expanding rapidly. Australia's aged care workforce is expected to grow to over 800,000 by 2050, which means there are many, many opportunities for people to become involved. Community care services support people to live with dignity and independence in their own homes and to avoid social isolation.

These services are aimed at the elderly and those who have mental illness, disability or are otherwise disadvantaged.

AGED CARE entry-level job titles:

- Assistant in Nursing
- Home Care Worker
- Lifestyle Assistant
- Personal Care Assistant
- Residential Care Worker
- Undergraduate & Graduate Nurses

How to Write Essays Workop for Years 10, 11 and 12

22 - 23 January 2024

This two-day Essay Writing course focuses on the essay form and related critical thinking, language and punctuation skills for students in Years 10 – 12. The course is relevant to a range of subjects that require the writing of essays for assignments and exams. We will study how to structure essays, organise ideas and information, and write in appropriate language for assignments and exam essays. There will be an analysis of the essay form and the need for an organised, logical argument with evidence and analytic discussion of the evidence. This will include a focus on appropriate language, rhetoric and punctuation as well as study of the nature of a formal voice, appropriate educated vocabulary for different courses, and the range from a formal to a more conversational voice. Sophisticated punctuation is introduced as a mode of complex thinking. The sections on the body of the essay focus on critical thinking and argument as a combination of a sequence of ideas, evidence and extended analytic comment about evidence.
